

26 August, 2013

Bank appraisals on housing

July 2013

Average value of housing bank appraisals stabilized

The average value of housing bank appraisals in Portugal stood at €1014/sq meter in July, the same value observed in the previous month. In annual terms, there was a decrease of 1.8% (change rate of -2.4% in the previous month). The Metropolitan areas of Lisbon and Porto, with average values of bank appraisals of €1218/sq meter and €938/sq meter, registered monthly change rates of 1.8% and -0.6%, respectively, while the annual changes stood at -1.1% and -3.0%, by the same order.
