

21 June, 2010

AGRICULTURAL FORECASTS

May 2010

Productivity of winter cereals and cherries downwards

Early estimates, on 31 May 2010, point to a general drop in winter cereals yield. The cherries trees show a high proportion of cracked fruits and a considerable fall of their productivity (-30%). A similar trend, although less expressive, is forecasted for the surfaces of potatoes, sunflower and processing tomato.
